I am a dustbin. I used to be an unknown little person, but now it is different. My role is much bigger and bigger. People have raised awareness of garbage sorting.

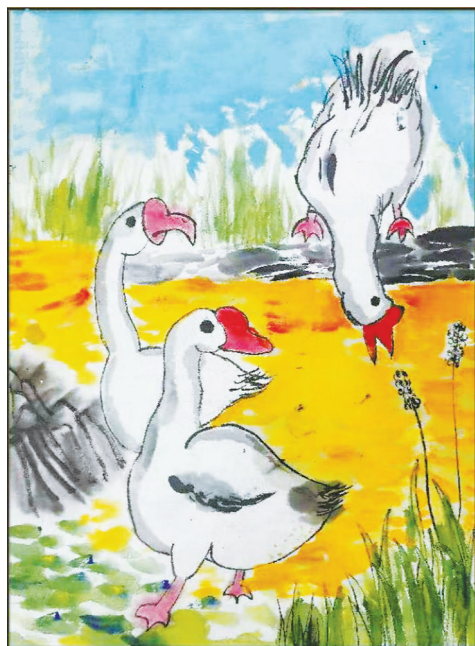

In the past, people only knew that all garbage was thrown at my mouth. Which made my stomach eat bad every day. Whenever I went to the garbage sorting station, those aunts and uncles were very miserable, and it took a long time to sort the garbage.

But now I finally have a happy life. People are gradually starting to separate kitchen waste from other waste. I'm clean every day. The cleaner aunt no longer have to worry about garbage sorting anymore. I am happy every day.

I have a friend, but it's not a human. He is a hamster exactly. His fur is made of whole white. He looks and touches like a ball of cotton. So I name him Cotton.

He spends his days entertaining himself in a wheel-shaped cage. He doesn't even scared of cat. He's brave. But one day, while I was doing my homework, he came out and tried to get me to play with him. Suddenly I realized, I immediately found a little ball, I rolled the ball toward him. He even tried to get the ball with his nose then passed the ball to me right away. How intelligent and cute he was! After playing, I go on with my homework. He got into his cage, too. What a wonderful day!
I love my hamster.
