It was October 29th. At 2 o'clock, my family drove to Xian Xiang town. My two classmates and I played the card. And at 6 o'clock we had a barbecue there. We ate pumpkin pies, shish kebabs, beef kebabs, and some other delicious food. We were very full. At 7 o'clock we made a lantern. Mine was purple. At 9 o'clock, we went to catch some insects. There were crabs, frogs, and many crickets. We all slept in tents and had a good night.

The second morning, we went out at 5 o'clock to watch the sunrise. The sun was like a golden ball. It was very beautiful. At six o'clock, we caught some crabs in the sea. There was some razer clam too. They ran so fast that we couldn't catch them. At 9 o'clock, I painted a little princess, who had a purple dress and black hair. But it looked very scary. We had a happy holiday.

Who is the Bravest Person?

Who is the bravest person? In my eye, my mother is the bravest person in the world.

Firstly, willing to challenge. My mother couldn't cook at first, she tried cooking over and over again, in order that I could enjoy the meals. Finally, she turned herself into a chef.

Secondly, facing the shortcomings. My mother was always unable to learn to swim at the beginning. She always asked for my advice modestly and never be discouraged. Finally, she turned herself into a super swimmer.

Last but not the least, admitting mistakes. When my mother and I have problems, she always communicates with me for the first time, tells me that she is also a new mother and hopes that I can tolerate her.

All in all, I think the bravest person is not someone who never feels fear, but the one who confronts it and moves ahead despite it. My mother is the bravest person in my eye, with no doubt.

A Happy Family

What is friendship? Maybe you will find it in my story.

I've had a close friend since kindergarten. But now she is in Hangzhou while I'm in Ningbo. Even though we are far from each other, we are still happy when we are together. And dad always tells me that I should cherish this friendship as when I grow up you can't find such pure emotion.

However, I couldn't understand this until something happened. One day she came to play with me. Suddenly, we quarreled over our idol and even were close to breaking up. On seeing this, dad asked her to come with him. I felt a little surprised but did nothing. After a while, she came out and wanted to make peace with me. I didn't want to say yes at first but when I recalled dad's words and thought of our friendship, I just played happily with her again.

This is friendship. In my eye, friendship is sharing together and growing up together. Friendship that can stand the test is true friendship. Friendship needs to accommodate and cherish each other, and the recovered friendship is even more precious!

During the winter holiday, my parents took me to the metro station. I felt so excited because taking the metro was the most enjoyable thing for me.

We went to the new metro station. And it was my first time taking Ningbo Metro Line Five. Then we went downstairs to the B-2 and waited for the new metro.

The new metro arrived. Then I went into the first carriage of the metro. There were no metro drivers there. The metro ran automatically and it was so cool. And I found that the highest speed of the metro is 80 km/h, which is faster than before.

There were many families on the metro, most of them with their children. They were as excited as I was. The carriage was big and clean. Everyone was talking about the subway on the metro, and the children were very happy.

High technology makes our life better and better. I love the new metro.

Wow, it was a cute white turtle egg.

I cherished it very much.

Twenty days later,

The young turtle hatched.

What a magic baby!

I am so excited and I love it.

It was very soft when touching the newborn baby.

So I gave it the name—Xiangjiao(banana).

Do you like it?
